FIXING IT UP WITH THE WOOLLEN PEOPLE.

Congress will reassemble in a little more than a month, and there is much curiosity to know what Mr. Taft's Tariff Board will do with the tariff, and particularly with the woolen schedule, that "indefensible" feature of the present Payne-Adair law, as it has been characterized by the President. The Washington correspondent of the Worcester Evening Post wrote to his paper last Friday that a conference had recently been held between members of the Tariff Board and New England worsted manufacturers, at which the wool duty was discussed and the present intentions of the Board partly disclosed, these intentions involving a plan to defeat the movement for an honest revision of the tariff. In the opinion of the correspondent, who has talked freely with many persons on the subject, the only way in which the alleged purpose of the Board can be defeated is by publicity. If the members of the Board, who are said to be in the confidence of the manufacturers, are allowed to perfect their plans, and if the President shall be governed by them, there will be only a sham revision of the iniquitous tariff on wool and the schedule be so confused that no remedial legislation can be secured before the new Congress meets in 1913, thus giving "the special interests two more years to plunder the public under a tariff framed in 1867."

"Under the present law the wool duty is 11 cents a pound, regardless of its value. If wool is worth 10 cents a pound the duty is 11 cents a pound, or 110 per cent. If it is worth 40 cents a pound, the duty is 11 cents a pound, or only 27 1/2 per cent. It is this system of wool duties by weight that places a very heavy tax on the low-priced wool used for moderate-priced clothing worn by the poor, and a very light tax on the high-priced wool used for high-priced clothing worn by the rich. The remedy is either free wool, or, if wool is to be taxed, then a duty based on the market value of the wool, which is called an ad valorem duty."

The Underwood-LaFollette bill passed at the extraordinary session of Congress, and vetoed by the President on the ground that it had not been considered with due regard to the manufacturing interests of the country, and because he preferred to wait for the report of the Tariff Board, provided for ad valorem duties, and this plan the worsted manufacturers object to and will seek to defeat with the assistance of the Tariff Board when Congress meets in December. The plan contemplated by the manufacturers and their allies on the Tariff Board is somewhat complicated, and all the more insidious and dangerous because of this fact. Practically all the wool now imported is greasy wool; that is, wool that has not been scoured after it has been taken from the sheep. The manufacturers propose to retain the duty by the pound, but to have it collected on the scoured weight, upon a sliding scale based on the shrinkage in weight after the wool has been cleaned. The correspondent of the Worcester paper explains how the thing would work as follows:

"Wool that yields 50 pounds to the hundred will bear a duty of 5 cents a pound. For every increase of 5 per cent in the yield the duty is increased 1 cent a pound above the 5 cents. For every decrease of 5 per cent the yield the duty is decreased 1 cent a pound. Stated in its simplest terms, as I have given it, the scheme appears complicated, and when examined closely it is seen to be even more complex and confusing. For example, the plan discussed by the worsted manufacturers and the members of the board provided that wool yielding more than 25 per cent and less than 30 per cent should bear a duty of 5 cents a pound; 30 per cent and less than 35 per cent, 6 cents; 35 per cent and less than 40 per cent, 7 cents; 40 per cent and less than 45 per cent, 8 cents; 45 per cent and less than 50 per cent, 9 cents; 50 per cent and less than 55 per cent, 10 cents; 55 per cent and less than 60 per cent, 11 cents; 60 per cent and less than 65 per cent, 12 cents; 65 per cent and less than 70 per cent, 13 cents; 70 per cent and less than 75 per cent, 14 cents; 75 per cent and less than 80 per cent, 15 cents;
